POMEROY-DEMOCRACY IN POWER.

The golden apple which the minority Democracy have been promising to the Union soldiers when they get in power has turned to ashes, and has actually been proven worse than a delusion. Last year by some local disaffections in the Republican ranks, the Democracy of Ohio succeeded in electing a majority in both branches of the Legislature. This delectable body, the especial guardians and friends of the poor soldier; the clamorous advocates of paying all soldiers' claims in gold—proceeded deliberately and unblushingly to perpetrate the outrage of disfranchising the soldiers in the Dayton Assylum, the maimed and crippled veterans of the State. Here, then, is a fair test, an unmistakable demonstration of the result of Democratic rule. We ask the soldiers of this county to ponder over it. Let the soldiers of the Republic consider how much Democratic pretense is worth. Soldiers, make a note of it, and let the action of the Ohio Legislature be a constant warning against yielding to the delusive persuasions of this treacherous party.

DEMOCRACY AND NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

The last Democratic Convention of Ohio resolved:

"That we are opposed both in principle and policy to Negro Suffrage."

That of South Carolina resolved:

"That we declare our willingness, when we have the power, to grant the colored citizens, with the proper qualifications as to property and intelligence, the right of suffrage."

That of Illinois resolved:

"That the right of suffrage shall be limited to the white race in this country."

And B. H. Hill, a leading Democratic politician on the eve of the election, telegraphs from Georgia:

"A very large torch-light procession of Democratic Niggers are marching through the streets. Proclaim it through upper Georgia that everything is safe."

The faculty of adaptation is well developed. They "blow hot and cold" on the rebellion, bonds, tariff and nigger, too!

P. S. Let not the Republicans of Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania, be deceived into the belief that Democrats are opposed to "Democratic Niggers" voting.

IN October, 1866, Senator Trumbull, in a public speech in the Court House Square, at Chicago, "eloquently stated that he was in favor of immediate impeachment and removal of Andrew Johnson." The Chicago Journal, citing this, with his votes in January and February last on the Stanton case remarks:

"Mr. Trumbull is like the man of whom we read in Sacred Writ, to whom the lord replied: 'Oh thou wicked servant, out of thine own mouth will I condemn thee.'"

THE Ohio Legislature may now go home. The Democratic majority have been holding off for a month to put a true blue in Mr. Wade's place. They have been disappointed, and it is just possible that their joy over the verdict of acquittal is slightly qualified.

MR. BINGHAM'S ELOQUENCE.

One of the most effective passages in Mr. Bingham's argument, was contained in these words:

The gentleman from New York (Mr. Evarts) took occasion to refer to the fugitive slave bill of 1850, a bill that was disgraceful to the Congress which enacted it; a bill that was in direct violation of the letter and spirit of the constitution; a bill of which I can say at least, although I doubt much whether the gentleman from New York can, that it never found an advocate in me; a bill of which Mr. Webster said that in his judgment it was unwarranted by the Constitution, a bill which offered a bribe out of the common treasury of the nation to every magistrate who sat in judgment on the right of a fleeing bondman to that liberty which belonged to man when God "breathed into his nostrils the breath of life and he became a living soul;" a bill which offered a reward to the ministers of justice to sharpen the judgment of the poor; a bill which suiting the conscience of the American people and the conscience of the civilized world, made it a crime to give shelter to the houseless or a cup of water to him who was ready to perish; a bill enacted for the purpose of sustaining that crime of crimes, that sum of all villanies, which made merchandise of immortality, which transformed a man into a chattel, a thing of trade; into what, for want of a better name, we call a slave, with no acknowledged right in the present, with no hope of inheritage in the great hereafter, and to whose darkened soul the universe was voiceless and God himself seemed silent; a bill under the direct violation of which that horrible tragedy was enacted within our own Commonwealth, within the sight, Mr. Chief Justice, of your own beautiful city, when Margaret Gardner, with her babe lashed upon her breast, pursued by the officers of the law, in her wild frenzy forgot her mother's affection in the joy she felt at sending before the appointed time by her own hand the spotless soul of her child back to her God who gave it, rather than allow it to be tossed back into the hell of human bondage under American law; a bill, nevertheless, by the American people even on that day when Anthony Burns walked in chains under the shadow of Bunker Hill, where "every turf beneath your feet is a soldier's sepulcher," and where sleep the first just martyrs in the cause of American independence, to be tried before a magistrate in a temple surrounded itself with chains and guarded with bayonets, and yet the people stood by and said: Let the law be executed until it be repealed. Talk to me about the American people recognizing the right of any President to set aside the law. Who does not know that two years after this enactment of 1852, the terrible blasphemy was uttered in the platform of the party whose representatives to-day insist on the executive prerogative to set aside your laws, and annihilate your government; that all discussion in Congress and out of Congress, touching this very fugitive slave bill, should be suppressed. The body that adopted that resolution should remember that there is something stronger after all than the resolution by mere partisans in convention assembled. They ought to have remedied that. God is not in the earthquake or in the fire, but in the still, small voice, speaking to the enlightened conscience of men, and that voice is omnipotent. God knows that for the honor of our common country I would take the step backward, and cover the nakedness and the shame of the American people in that day of American disgrace. They nominated their candidate for President, and he accepted their terms, and was carried into the Presidential chair by the votes of all the States in this Union. With such a record as that; with such a law, offensive to the judgment and conscience of the people of the United States, and of the civilized world, executed, how dare gentlemen come up here before the American Senate and tell us that it is the traditional policy of the American people to allow their laws to be defiled by any Executive? I deny it. There is not a line in our history that does not give a flat denial to the assumption. It has never been done, never.

The Tribune on the Chief Justice.

The New York Tribune has the following. It is deemed significant here, because until quite lately a number of Mr. Chase's friends have counted on the Tribune for aid in any movement looking to bringing out Chase:

"The man who has done more than all others, unless in a pecuniary sense, to secure this result is Chief Justice Chase. He decided the vote of Mr. Van Winkle. He did his utmost, happily in vain, to carry off Messers. Anthony and Sprague. We doubt that Mr. Henderson would have voted as he did, but for the Chief Justice's exertions. Those exertions saved Andrew Johnson from a verdict which we feel that he has worked hard and successfully to deserve. Thanks to infinite mercy there is an ordeal before us in which a concurrence of two-thirds is not required to insure a righteous verdict. Let Messrs. Chase, Fessenden & Co., take care of their man Johnson, while we organize for and make certain the joyful advent of Grant and victory."

DESCRIPTION OF THE POPULAR LOANS.

Jas. T. Brady & Co., Bankers corner of Fourth and Wood Streets, Pittsburgh, Pa., have placed in our hands the following circular, which shows the character of all loans made to the Government during and since the war. As a reference it will be valuable, and should be preserved by all who chance to see it:

DESCRIPTION OF THE POPULAR LOANS.

6s of 1861—Payable in 1881, bearing six per cent. (gold) interest, payable January 1st and July 1st, in each year.

5-20s of 1862.—Redeemable at the option of the Government, after April 30, 1867, and payable May 1st, 1882. Interest, six per cent. (gold,) payable May 1st and November.

30 year six per cent, Currency Bonds issued by Government to Pacific R. R., payable 30 years after date. Six per cent. (currency.)

A RIVAL OF BRICK POMEROY.

The great Democratic leader, Brick Pomeroy is likely to have a formidable rival in the person of a journalist named Vanice, who issues a paper at Warsaw, Kentucky, called The Sign of the Times. The Democratic masses of the country are sustaining the La Crosse Democrat so liberally, and its sentiments seem to suit the party so admirably, that we may expect to see many of the same character spring up all over the country. Here is a sample extract from the new organ, which is clipped from an article on "A monument to Abrahan Lincoln:"

"Two hundred thousand dollars to erect a monument to Abraham Lincoln! Great God! Can it be possible? Is there a white freeman so low, so degraded, so steeped in infamy as to aid or assist in erecting a monument to that beast of iniquity, that father of Jacobins, of smutty stories; a curse, a blot on the pages of humanity; a political pimp; destroyer of civil liberty; head center of a hot bed of thieves, knaves, cowards, plunderers, murderers, house-burners, woman murderers, spoon thieves,; such a crew as the father of demons would be ashamed to associate with! A monument to Abe Lincoln, the defunct, sent to his father, the devil, on a Good Friday night, from a play house, by that lover of liberty, the great American Brutus, J. Wilkes Booth, whose name will go down to future generations as the American Liberator—as the man who had the daring courage to destroy the first American tyrant, to rid this unhappy country of a monster. We can exclaim, 'Well done, thou good and faithful son of freedom!'"

The above extract might suffice to indicate the character and tone of the paper, and to show what finds the readiest market among Democrats, but we add another very brief article on "Repudiation or Revolution:"

"Americans, as God liveth, there is but one hope for you, and that hope is in the rising star of repudiation; and that star will lead you as did the star in the East lead the wise men to their Saviour of Bethlehem, of old."

ONE farm in Illinois has three hundred and twenty miles of hedge fencing upon it. The owner proposes to put out ten thousand acres of wheat next year.

RALLY FOR THE LEADER.

AIR—"Come all ye Jolly Shepherds."

The bugle has been sounded,
It echoes through the glen,
It stirs the loyal millions
Of brave and honest men.
They hear the nation calling
Her sons, who yet are true,
To rally for the leader
Who led the boys in blue.
Who led the boys in blue,
Who led the boys in blue,
For Grant, the noble leader,
Who led the boys in blue

Our souls are springing forward,
Our voice is on the air;
We bring a crown of honor,
That none but Grant shall wear;
We want him yet for freedom,
To fight her battles through,
And we'll swell his ranks with millions
Of loyal boys in blue.
Of loyal boys in blue,
Of loyal boys in blue;
And swell the ranks with millions
Of loyal boys in blue.

The chief, whose floating banners
In victory ever shine,
Will yet restore the nation,
By fighting "on that line:"
His name will cheer the loyal,
Their glorious work to do,
While backed by swelling armies
Of gallant boys in blue.
Of gallant boys in blue,
Of gallant boys in blue;
While backed by swelling armies
Of gallant boys in blue.

Then, raise the sweeping chorus,
The right must surely win;
Clean out the stately mansion,
For Grant is going in.
Put down the head of treason,
We'll fight the battle through,
And back our Grant and Congress
By millions dressed in blue.
By millions dressed in blue,
By millions dressed in blue;
And back our Grant and Congress
By millions dressed in blue.

THE NEW PARTY PROJECT.

Mr. Chase a Presidential Candidate.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times—who is little given to sensation—gives the following concerning the new party project on the tapis, and which has been one of the chief complications developed by the impeachment:

The most astounding political intrigue ever known to the politics of this country is now on foot among the prominent politicians and office holders in this city and elsewhere. The chief movers in it are Andrew Johnson President of the United States, after acquittal, and Chief Justice Chase. The object is the formation of a third party and the defeat of General Grant, if nominated at Chicago. On Tuesday last Ex-Governor Pratt, of Maryland, said that acquittal would follow, and before the week was out the country would be astonished by an entire change of Cabinet. It has since transpired that the President has agreed to send in a new Cabinet of Republicans, immediately after acquittal, and to adopt and strictly carry out the reconstruction measures of Congress. Senator Henderson last night stated this agreement to be a fact, and it is believed by shrewd judges to be one of the principal elements whereby sufficient strength and power may be given to Mr. Chase's party to make it formidable, and to throw the Presidential election into the House of Representatives, if not to elect its candidate before the people. This movement expects to be able to defeat Gen. Grant by arraying itself against the extreme radical element in the Rebublican party, which, it is believed, will be his main support. The proposition that the President shall abandon his opposition to Congress is intended to neutralize the power of that body long enough to make inroads upon it in favor of this movement. When the Administration is fully recognized, its power and patronage will be used to enhance Mr. Chase's prospects. It is not believed he would accept the Democratic nomination, but the fact that Mr. Voorhees and many other prominent Democrats openly advocate his nomination, is conclusive that a strong Democratic support is at his command. Mr. Chase is unreserved in his expressions of contempt for Gen. Grant as a political leader, and for the impeachment movement, and bewails what he terms the tendency of the party to take up with small men, and says the party has surrendered to Gen. Grant. His influence has been excited from the begining to defeat the impeachment, and he is believed to have done more than any other man to secure the acquittal of Mr. Johnson. Hence the latter is willing, if acquitted, to reward Mr. Chase by throwing the influence of the Administration in his favor. The discovery of this intrigue has startled the political metropolis to its very center. All eyes are anxiously turned on the Chicago Convention. The intriguers hope and expect to see some men in the party in their race over acquittal commit some foolish acts, whereby they may reap additional profit. These are the developements which are in everbody's mouth to-day to the exclusion almost of even the verdict. Those who choose can take these statements cum grano salis. But they are based on the facts and names mentioned above, and have an absolute foundation. One thing is certain, the Chief Justice is still a candidate for the Presidency; any one who doubts this deserves a straight jacket.

ONE of the members of the Ohio Legislature who voted for the bill disfranchising students while traveling abroad wrote home that he had purchased a picture to adorn his 'palatial mansion' called "An Oshun Landscip." Verily, of such are the elect!

NASBY ON SERGEANT BATES.

Mr. Nasby was at Pettisville when Sergeant Bates arrived at that village with his flag. He reports the following speech of welcome:

"Sergeant Bates, Sir: Understandin as we du, that yoo chivalrously made a wager (wich is a bet) with a Wisconsin ablishnist that yoo kud walk from Vixburg to Washington carryin the American flag unfurled without bein insulted nor nothin, and havin received testimony from leadin Democrats uv Wisconsin, wich is entirely satisfactory to us, that you are not in no sense, nor never wuz at any time, in sympathy with the Ablishin, or ez they falsely style themselves, the Republikin party, we extend to yoo the hospitalities of Pettisville.

Southern hospitality uv the broadest kind hez bin extended to yoo. Yoo hev had a chaw off uv evry plug—yoo hev had yer suck out uv evry bottle, your nose shows that sence yoo entered the sunny South you hev not been allowed to taste water, wich is our idee uv hospitable treatment. Wat, my deer sur, does this go to show? Wat duz this prove? Ef Charles Sumner, fur instince, or Judge Kelley hed bin so presumpshus, or any other Republikin, ez to attempt sich a feet, the outraged Southern hart wood hev biled over and he wood hev been tored tu pieces. What duz it prove? It proves that 'taint the flag we object tu so much ez it is the men who hev bin in the habit uv carryin it. In the hands uv a constitooshenel Dimocrat its the same old flag it alluz wuz. In such hands, its russle sounds in our ears like the crack uv the nigger whip and the site thereof is soothin. For when the flag wuz in their hands, we hunted niggers under its folds in the streets uv Boston. Under that flag we shot Lovejoy in Alton, and sunk Bailey's press in the Ohio at Cincinnati. Under the shadow uv that blessed flag we sold niggers at auction in Washington, and that flag, that symbol uv freedom, would hev floated over the deck uv every slave ship which sailed from Africa, but for the unjust and soisidle laws wich forced the philanthropists in the biznis to sale under other penants. In your hands, and the hands uv sich ez yoo, that flag is to us the old flag it wuz then, and its sacred to us becoz under it we cood do all these things. That's why we love it, and that's why we tolerate yoo with it. Hed it remained sich we never wood hev raised our hands agin it. So long ez the flag was sich we loved it. But when the North dispooted our control, and put it in the hands uv A. Linkin, a Ablishnist, it wuz our flag no more. Then we felt it must come down—that its mission wuz ended and that to us it wuz nothin. I fired onto that flag. I raised my hand agin it, and proud I am. But born by a Dimocrat—a old style Dimocrat—a Dimocrat who stuck to us becoz he wuz afeered uv nigger ekality, it is wunst more the same old flag and we reverence it.

Judge Woodward Gets a Lashing.

On a motion of Thaddeus Stevens to ask the Senate to send a certified copy of the last two days of the trial to the House a stormy time set in. No one could fathom the reasons for this request. Mr. Ross. of Illinois, asked Mr. Stevens if he thought Senators should perjure themselves in order to convict Andrew Johnson? Mr. Stevens replied that he was inclined to think it would'nt hurt them much. This brought out Mr. Woodward, of Pennsylvania, who characterized the attempt to influence Senators as indecent, and went on for several minutes in general denunciation. Gen. Schenck got a copy of the Globe and turning to a speech made by Mr. Woodward a few months since, said the charges he had just made came with a bad grace from the man who had declared Congress a fragmentary body, that the House had no power to impeach or the Senate to try, and that if he was to advise the President, with the army and navy at his back, he would soon make an end of impeachment and impeachers." Gen. Schenck then went on in a very bitter strain and said he had at the time prepared a resolution for expulsion, but had been in some way turned from his purpose.

Taxing and Being Taxed.

It is one thing to be taxed, and quite a different thing to tax one's self. How many people pay their Government taxes grudgingly, who at the same time needlessly squander ten times the amount? It is asserted that nearly fifteen hundred million dollars were spent last year in the United States for intoxicating drinks—or half enough to pay off the national debt. This money is not only squandered but poverty, crime and untold suffering are inflicted upon society.

BRICK POMEROY announces, with a flourish of his brazen trumpet, that he will have formed by the 1st of July, five thousand "Democratic" or Ku Klux clubs, in various parts of the country, the object of which is, as he states it, "the rights of States," "equal taxation," and "white supremacy," or, as it really means, rebel rule, repudiation, and the perpetuation of black slavery. This he says he will have "or another war," and adds, "only this, and nothing more." Well, it looks, to a casual observer, as if "only this" was quite enough.

HOW AN ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS LOOKS.

A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette, writing from Mount Vesuvius, April 4, gives the following unusually clear and interesting account of one of the explosive exhibitions of that famous mountain: We had heard several explosions as we came up the mountain, and had seen an occasional shower of sparks thrown up above the little crater; and these gradually increased until we had taken our stand as described. Then for more than two hours the hill above us continued to shoot forth an almost constant succession of explosions of brilliant burning stones. I hardly like to use the comparison, but I don't think I can give a better idea of it than by saying that each explosion was like a vast girandole of rockets, only that there was more speed about it, and more variety owing to the different sizes of the stones shot out, and that there was more intense light at the first outburst than in the case of rockets. Flame there certainly was none—this we observed carefully; though the trails of the shooting stones, and the illuminated vapor, might almost excuse the word. The noise of the discharges was not a bang; it was a pervading sound, almost exactly resembling the waves on a beach and wind blowing through shrouds. It varied in intensity, but was nearly continuous and of the character mentioned. The mountain trembled perceptibly enough during the whole of our stay.

It is impossible for me to calculate exactly but I judged that there were from 1,000 to 1,500 stones in each great discharge, and there were often as many as eight or ten discharges in a minute. The majority of the stones were small—the largest say as large as two bricks end to end. The large ones mostly fell back into the crater, but the small ones being thrown high and more acted on by the wind, fell in immense numbers on the leeward slope of the small crater and on the same side of the great cone beyond. To my mind this was a spectacle hardly less striking than the discharges themselves; at any rate, it was quite new to me. I have heard it said that the cone becomes "red hot" under such discharges. But this is not an accurate description of what I saw. "Red" is not the word, but "golden;" and the cone was not covered even by these copious showers! The sight was far more beautiful than if it had been so. The crowd of golden spots on the dead black surface—the small ones generally resting where they fell, while the large ones rolled through them down the slope, and the constant change as shower after shower descended, made a variegated and beautiful spectacle such as was of itself alone worth the ascent. It formed a wonderful pedestal to the explosions which surmounted it, and which were naturally the great attraction. I could not calculate the height to which some of the small stones were thrown, but it was very great. There was generally one which went far higher than all the rest, and pierced upward toward the moon, who looked calmly down mocking such vain attempts to reach her. The larger pieces were, with rare exception, not thrown so high; indeed many of them only just appeared over the rim of the cone, above which they came floating leisurely up to show their brilliant forms and intense white light for a second, and then subside again into the abyss.

A DASHING young widow in Detroit prepared a pleasant surprise for her suitor a few evenings since. Expecting a call from him, she hid herself in a convenient corner, and as he touched the knob of the door bell, sprang out in the darkness of the evening, and nearly smothered him—with kisses. His cool reception of her caresses startled her with a recognition of the fact that instead of her lover she had been lavishing her sweetness upon the conductor of a street car, who had come with a note explaining an unforeseen absence. The widow, thereupon, with great propriety, fainted on the spot. Moral, look before you leap!

The Bankrupt Law.

The first year of the operation of the Bankrupt Law expires on the first day of June next, after which time all petitioners must pay fifty per cent. of their liabilities or procure the assent in writing of three fourths of their creditors in order to obtain discharge from their debts. It is not true, as many suppose, that the operation of the fifty per cent. clause has been postponed to the first of January.

THE Legislature of Connecticut has chosen Ex-Governor Buckingham, United States Senator in the place of Hon. James Dixon, whose term expires on the 4th of March next. Mr. Dixon was elected as a Republican, but having sold himself out to Johnson, is now set aside as an out-and-out Radical. This is one of the results of the late election in Connecticut of which our Copperhead friends were so jubilant at the time.

THE Republican members of the Connecticut Legislature have nominated ex-Governor Wm. A. Buckingham for United States Senator, in the place of James Dixon, whose term expires in March next. The vote stood: Buckingham, 81; Hawley, 59.

A PERFECT MATCH.

BY W. A. KENDALL.

The Jewels dangle in her ears,
Her waist is but a slender span;
And as she swings along, she says,
"I'm going to catch a dandy man."

His hat is in the latest style,
He totes his cane with dainty hold;
And as he struts about, he says,
"I'm going to wed a fool for gold."

They come together at the ball,
They dance a jig, and waltz and whirl;
Her dress is fine, "demolition fine,"
His purse is tank, his hair in curl.

He is "so nice," she is "so rich,"
He lacks for cents, she lacks for brains;
He flatters her, she dazzles him.
They call each other "pretty names."

With goldy growl papa says "yes,"
Mamma say naught, mamma is dead;
His debts are large, her purse is deep;
The fop and fool together wed.

A marriage of "convenience" quite.
A very recherche affair;
"It's just the thing," his friends aver;
"It's just the thing," her friends declare.

They live up town, in free-stone front,
The halls are grand, the rooms high;
The beau monde from their coaches trip,
And enter with an envious sigh.

They do not love, they do not hate,
Their only bonds are those of law;
They frequent operas and plays,
And scorn the "dirty rabble, awh!"

He held the cards, she held the stake,
The lead was brass, the trump was gold;
A perfect match, an even pair,
For he was bought, and she was sold.

METHODISM.

Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

CHICAGO, May 15.—At yesterday's session Bishop Simpson offered the following resolutions, which were adopted, the action of Wednesday being rescinded:

"WHEREAS, There is now pending in the Senate of the United States the most important question which has ever engaged its attention; and

WHEREAS, Evidence and pleadings in this case have been fully opened by the people, so that all may form an enlightened opinion; and

WHEREAS We are deeply impressed that upon its rightful decision will largely depend the safety and prosperity of the nation, as well as religious privileges of our minister and members in many parts of the South; and

WHEREAS, Painful rumors are in circulation that partly by unworthy jelousies, and partly by corrupt influences, pecuniary and otherwise, most activly employed, efforts are being made to influence Senators improperly, and to prevent them from performing their high duty; Therefore,

Resolved, That we hereby appoint an hour of prayer, from 9 to 10 o'clock to-morrow, to invoke mercy from God upon our nation, and to beseech him to save our Senators from errors, and so influence them that their decision shall be in truth and righteousnese, and shall increase security and prosperity to our beloved Union.

DEPRAVED CONDUCT OF A YOUNG LADY.

The inhabitants of our quiet and virtuous village have for the past two weeks been compelled to behold in their midst a most disgraceful and unpleasant scene. An old hoary-headed individual, who has been stopping here for the past three months, and over whose head the frosts of many winters have passed, has been publicly seen reclining in the lap and arms of a young and blushing damsel. Whether it has been a matter of choice upon the part of the maiden, or whether the attentions of the old gray-headed villain were forced upon her we cannot say. We can say, however, that such conduct is not looked upon with favor by our citizens; and if the young lady expects to remain in our midst long, and desires to retrieve her character that the first step necessary to take, is to dismiss from her society her old paramour and send him to the arctic regions. We believe that this decrepit old man usually goes by the name of Winter, while the blooming lass is commonly called Spring.—Ex.

A SALT LAKE letter says: "One of the chief topics of common talk now is the grasshoppers. They have hatched out in immense numbers, the ground in some places being "black with them." In other places there are none as yet. Some old residents say they never saw so many in the Spring before. They are very small at present, mostly about a quarter of an inch long, but very lively, and already giving evidence of the characteristic voracity of their race.

IT turns out that there is one more revolutionary hero lingering this side of the grave—JESSE BEARDSLEE, who was born in Chesterfield county, Virginia, is now one hundred and ten years of age, and served about one year in the Revolution before the close of the war. He is now living in Russell county Ky.

ADVICES received at Leavenworth, Kansas indicate that the Southern Indians are organizing for an outbreak. They recently burnt several cars, cut the Telegraph wires and obstructed the railroad tracks. Numerous parties have been seen going North, and they appear to be organizing for a general outbreak.

MISSISSIPPI Republicans have placed in the field full State and Congressional tickets. Gen Eggleston, a distinguished Union officer leading the former, and both tickets made up almost entirely from natives of the State.

THEY talk of putting up new signs on the Erie railroad on which, instead of "Look out for the locomotive," shall be "Prepare to meet your God."

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

CHICAGO ILLS., May 19, 1868.

DEAR REPUBLICAN:—The "Lake City" is agog this morning. Politics run high and the amount of caucusing and thimble-rigging going on is untold, and will be, outside the many different "rings." But, let us not get on politics, as there will be enough of that hereafter. I will tell you how I came here, and the way-side impressions.

A gloomy, disagreeable morning was an unfortunate time to leave Waynesburg. The road to Rice's Landing was shortened, however, by the company of our townsmen Flennikenand Campbell, Esq., both of whom are at present in this city. Once at the Landing, the button-holers of the Old Line of Steamers wished to transport us and our luggage immediately on board the "Elisha Bennett," which kind wish met with no favor in the party, having concluded before-hand to go down on the splendid steamer of the New Line. They tried their Calliope on us, but it would'nt do. Its hideous noise is enough to drive all the birds out of the woods along the Monongahela. On the "Chieftain" it was dull, perhaps, caused by the weather, and the scarcity of people traveling, so I sought my state-room and forgot surroundings until aroused for supper. Six o'clock, the furnaces and fires of the Iron City glared across the water, and a comfortable bed and room in that best of Hotels—the Monongahela—terminated the "first day out."

The following day at 3½ o'clock our party left on the Pan Handle Route for Chicago via Columbus and Richmond. I was never on this Pan Handle road but once before and then I had no reason to wish seeing it again. This time the star of our luck went down with the jumping off the track of two cars just ahead of us, in the Pittsburgh tunnel. Fairly on our way we sped right merrily along through a good country and by picturesque landscapes. Sunset, the iron bridge, the river and city of Steubenville, grouped by the eye in one gorgeous picture from the eastern shore, will gladden the heart of any lover of the grand in nature and art. Night came down on us soon after entering Ohio and by the time we passed Dennison and had our supper it was time to seek rest. Alas! for us there was none. It was our fate to change cars at Columbus at 12 o'clock, and nothing remained but to brave it out. In vain I wooed the "sweet restorer." The multiplication table would be exhausted in an attempt to calculate the numerous attitudes struck to win her. Too tired to talk, I tried cigars. Feet up and head down and vice versa. It was no use, so I stiffened back in my seat and gave attention only to the changing sky, the clank of the train and the serio-comic growls and grunts of fellow miserabiles. 12 o'clock, we reached Columbus, the sky clear and the air cold. Here we changed for the through train to Chicago. During the few moments we stopped I observed they had no very elegant depot for a place of its reputed size and importance; but of the city proper, my view was limited to a long line of glittering street lamps stretching right and left.

Away we rattled and until morning dawned were oblivious to everything excepting the noise of the train. With the gray streaks of dawn betokening the return of light, I brightened up to catch what I could of the kind and and quality of the country, of the inhabitants and their peculiarities. Nearing the western boundaries of Ohio by this route I was surprised to find the land so level. It resembles much the eastern part of Virginia, the soil only being black loam instead of sand. It looks poor, and if I may judge from what I saw it is as poor as it looks. So in the eastern part of Indiana, until you come to Logansport on the Wabash, omitting some few elegant scopes and one or two flourishing "Western towns." Stretching away from Logansport to the north-west is the real prairie land, dotted at intervals by snug-looking farm houses, rank with pasturage and covered with grazing herds. To the eye unfamiliarized by acquaintance, it presents a degree of sublimity. The streams are deep and sluggish and tortuous in their windings. Throughout the length and breadth of our vision, cultivation seemed most prosperous as, indeed, it does along the whole route. Sunday afternoon, the steeples of Chicago loomed up on the plain ahead like the royals of a fleet of men-of-wars-men. Rounding to on the west side of town, we came up alongside the depot platform and set our feet down in Chicago—the famous, renowned Chicago! Soon we were snugly ensconced in good quarters ready to "do" the city, nominate candidates for the Republican party, or make ourselves useful in any way.

I must acknowledge my first impression of the place not good. My opinion is that it is the best advertised city in the United States, and from that fact it derives its prestige. There is nothing at all remarkable in the appearance of the city, on the contrary it is common-place. The suburbs present no attractions whatever. The houses are frame, the land low and wet, and at this time, streets not paved are hub deep in black mud. True, the business part of the city is well built, but nothing extra. Fine residences are scarce in comparison with cities approximating it in population. But I am not here to run the city down, these are only my convictions. Many of the citizens are thorough-bred Yankees, and any one acquainted with their style know them to be energetic and go-ahead-a-tive, but most confounded "blowers." That's what they are "on" in Chicago.

As first intimated in this letter politics are high, rampant. The city is filling up fast and among them are many Greene countians, some direct from Pennsylvania, others residents of these parts. Of the former are the party I am with, Maj. J. B. Morris, Capt. Bent. Donley, Dr. A. B. Miller, of the latter I have met Mr. Robt. Adams, (of Elijah,) Mr. Wm. Lindsey, B. K. Higinbotham, J. T. Hammers, and others here on business and as delegates to the different Conventions. And of all these there are none who by some hook or crook will not get tickets for the great Convention—by the way, rare exotics in this latitude as not one in a thousand of the strangers in this city will get in. You see "Greene county" is able to take care of itself at "all times and under all circumstances." The weather is most propitious for the work ahead.

MAY 21.—I detained this letter beyond anticipation and by way of prerogative will add, that you already know, who are favored with daily mails and telegraphs, The National Republican Convention of '68 has passed into history. GRANT and COLFAX are the nominees amid the wildest enthusiasm.

As I write heavy guns are thundering on the square and the shouts of the people mingle with the hoarse notes of rejoicing. This is a proud day for our country. Of the Soldiers and Sailors and the National Convention, I'll write anon. J. E. S.

THE WORK OF THE CONVENTION.

We publish elsewhere the proceedings of the Chicago Convention as complete as our columns will permit.

The Convention was perhaps the largest ever assembled for a like purpose. Its entire proceedings were dignified, wise and most earnest and enthusiastic. But the distinguising and crowning feature was its perfect harmony.

They did their work deliberately and did it well. They gave us ULYSSES S. GRANT for President, which is in accordance with the universal demand of the loyal masses, everywhere; and for Vice President SCHUYLER COLFAX than whom no better selection could have been made. Suffice it for the present to say that both are well known to every school boy in the country, and to every news reader in the civilized world, the one as a conquering hero, and the other as a type of the most exalted American Statesmanship. The PLATFORM is a reiteration of the time honored principles of the party, which are principles of eternal truth and justice. The cause we espouse, as set forth in the Resolutions of the Convention is the cause of country, right and humanity, and having chosen our leaders let us put our armor on, marshal our hosts and "fight it out on that line." GRANT, COLFAX, THE RIGHT AND VICTORY!

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NATIONAL UNION REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

CHICAGO, May 20.—At 12.30 P. M. Gov. Ward, Chairman of the National Republican Committee, called the Convention to order. In a brief address he urged the delegates to take no steps backward, to demonstranstrate that the war was no failure, and an emancipated race lifted from slavery to-day unites with the Republican party to maintain Republican liberty. Neither armed treason nor political treachery can arrest the triumph of our cause. [Applause.] If you designate as leader the great captain of the age, the nation will greet it as a precursor of victory to our cause and peace to the public. [Applause.]

Prayer by Bishop Simpson.

On motion of Mr. Ward, General Carl Schurz, of Missouri, was made temporary Chairman, and was conducted to the chair amid applause.

General Schurz delivered a brief address, in which he returned thanks, and sketched the history of the Republican party, and its triumphs in support of liberty, union, humanity and equal rights. The problem of the future is to secure the fruits of the past, and adapt the country to the new order of things. This required the greatest prudence and firmness. In referring to Lincoln, he said we measure our loss through his death by what he left behind him. (Laughter and applause.) With good counsel and moral courage victory will be true to the Republican party so long as the Republican party is true to itself. Let not persons carry us beyond the bounds of wisdom and self-respect. (Applause.) He counselled wisdom, justice to the soldier, to the Southern Union men; to the colored race and to the National creditors. This sentiment excited great enthusiasm. Let us be just inside of the party as well as out of it.

Temporary Vice Presidents and Secretaries were appointed.

It was then ordered that the Secretaries call the roll of States, and that each delegation respectively shall name one gentleman, that those thus named shall constitute a Committee on Credentials.

After a lengthy controversy over the propriety of calling the unreconstructed States and the Territories, the motion was agreed to.

In like manner, Committees on permanent organization, on resolutions, and order of business, were appointed.

On motion it was

Resolved, That all resolutions offered be referred without debate to the Committee on Resolutions.

On motion of Gen. Sickles, the Convention took a recess until five o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The Convention re-assembled, pursuant to adjournment, at 5 o'clock.

The Committee on Credentials not being ready to report, Hamilton Harris, Chairman of the Committee on permanent organization, reported the name of Joseph R. Hawley, of Conn., for permanent President of the Convention. This announcement was received with tremendous applause. The President was conducted to the chair by Ex-Governor Solomen of Wisconsin, and Ex-Governor Brown of Georgia, amid great cheering for Hawley, Brown and the retiring Chairman, Gen. Schurz. When the latter presented the permanent Chairman, the Convention received him with the heartiest outburst of enthusiasm yet manifested.

Mr. Hawley addressed the Convention as follows:

Gentlemen of the Convention: I tender you my most grateful thanks for the high honor you have conferred upon me. Deeply impressed by a sense of the responsibilities of the position, I earnestly solicit your indulgence and your aid. We come together charged with the momentous duty of selecting the chief rulers of the great nation which leads the world in the promotion of freedom and equal rights. (Applause.) The indications of your purposes and spirit already given assure us that you will maintain the noble character of the republican party. We unavoidably recall at this time the Convention of 1860 with its profound anxieties. Its fresh, pure and glowing devotion to liberty, and its enthusiastic acceptance of the wager of battle tendered by slavery and secession. (Applause.) It now seems clear to us that God then ruled our counsels. He made our declaration of principles manly and sincere. He gave us Abraham Lincoln for President. (Tremendous cheering.) God send us like wisdom and success to-day. [Applause.] He tested us in that moment and to an extent which the liveliest imagination could not have anticipated. Posterity, we hope, will decide that we met that test with the spirit worthy of a free people. Countless treasure and three hundred thousand lives offered were the evidence that we were solemnly in earnest. We offered our lives and our property, but it was not enough. We laid our prejudices of race and class upon the altar, and the consciousness that we at least deserved success redoubled our nerve. The same high resolve rules to-day, and the honest men of this country are ready for equal and even greater sacrifices, if they be indispensable, to the dedication of this Continent to liberty and equal rights. [Applause.] We learned the first lesson when we found that we must make all men free and call them to the battlefield. We learned the second lesson when we found that we must still move and give impartially to all men a share in the Government we were endeavoring to restore. [Great applause.] With a clear and fearless expression on the essential and important question at issue, which the people all understand, and no ingenious device, no words, can obscure or avoid, passing by all personal and temporary controversies, working in perfect confidence, that the American people mean to do right and will do it, in the end we may feel sure of triumph. The power of a nation of forty millions must be behind the just claims of the poorest working man, of whatever race, to recover even just wages. Its majesty must be felt wherever the humblest loyal man appeals against personal violence and oppression. [Cheers.] Every dollar of the national debt the blood of a soldier is pleged for. [Enthusiastic cheering.] Every bond, in letter and in spirit must be as sacred as a soldier's grave. [renewed cheers.] We must win, gentlemen, and we shall win. It is the old fight of liberty, equality and fraternity against oppression, caste and aristocracy. It is the old fight to make the world better, "with malice toward none and with charity for all." [Loud applause.] We may hault for a moment, or change direction, but the good cause always goes steadily forward. It is related, and whether it be true or not, the incident is well invented, that in the evening of that awful battle of the wilderness, when the legions of the Union army had fought all day rather by faith than by sight, in the wild woods and tangled brush, that some man asked General Grant to step backward a little and re-organize, and that he replied: "We have done well, gentlemen; at half past three in the morning we move forward." [Long continued cheering.] We accept his spirit and his words. Perhaps I am not anticipating in saying that we shall accept him in person again as our leader. [Loud cheering.] Thanking you again, gentlemen, very heartily for the honor conferred, I await the further pleasure of the Convention. [Applause.]

The remaining officers of the permanent organization were then announced.

The Chairman announced the Committee to receive the delegation from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention.

The delegation from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention were conducted to the front of the platform and were presented by General Cochrane, in the following remarks:

Mr. President, I have the honor, in behalf of the Committee recently appointed by yourself, to announce that they have discharged the duty to which they were appointed. I introduce to the Convention, through yourself, General Fairchilds, of Wisconsin, chairman of the Committee to which I referred. [Prolonged cheers.]

General Fairchilds—Mr. President and gentlemen of the Convention, as instructed by the members of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention I appear before you on their behalf to present to you a resolution passed unanimously by them yesterday afternoon as follows:

Resolved, That we the soldiers and sailors, steadfast now as ever to the Union and flag, fully recognize the claims of General Ulysses S. Grant to the confidence of the American people, and believing that the victories won under his guidance in war will be illustrated by him in peace by such measures as will secure the fruits of our exertions and restore the Union upon a loyal basis, we declare our deliberate conviction that he is the choice of the soldiers and sailors of the Union for the office of President of the United States.

[Loud Applause.]

Gov. Fairchilds continued:

The soldiers of the United States ask the nomination of General Grant for President, because we love him, and we love him, sir, because he is loyal to the Union, loyal to justice, loyal to freedom and loyal to right, and if you will give us our comrade as a leader in the campaign of '68, we will blow up the enemy's works as we did in the field in '64. [Applause.]

Ma. Cochrane moved that the resolutions from the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, as reported, be accepted, entered upon the record, and made a part of the proceedings. Adopted.

While waiting for the report of the Committee on Credentials, which it was announced would soon be ready, General Logan was called for a speech, but declined to respond at that time.

Gov. Brown of Georgia, a reconstructed rebel was called out and proceeded to address the Convention at length in a speech of great power, at the close of which, Gen. Lee, of Louisiana, Chairman of the Committee on Credentials, reported the names of several delegates from several States. In regard to Pennsylvania, he said there appeared fifty-nine delegates, whereas that State was entitled to only fifty-two votes. The Committe recommended that the fifty-nine delegates be admitted to seats upon the floor of the Convention, and that they be authorized to cast the fifty-two votes to which the State is entitled, such being the wish of the Pennsylvania delegation.

The Committee recommended allowing each of the delegations from the several Territories the right to seats upon the floor, and privilege of casting each two votes. The same was accorded to the District of Columbia.

From Maryland the Committee recommended the admission of the Cresswell delegation, but they accorded seats on the floor to the contestants without the right to vote.

From California they recommended the admission of the regular delegates headed by Coey and Stevens.

In response to a query by Mr. Warner, of Pennsylvania, the Chairman of the Committee said the delegates from the unreconstructed States are included in this report as entitled to seats and votes.

The report was then adopted.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

Mr. Barker, N. Y., from the Committee on Order of Business, reported the following rules:

First—Upon all subjects before the Convention, the States shall be called in alphabetical order.

Second—Four votes shall be cast by the delegates at large of each State, and each Congressional District shall be entitled to two votes. The vote of each delegation shall be reported by its Chairman.

Third—The report of the Committee on Credentials shall be disposed of before the report of the Committee on Platform and Resolutions is acted upon, and the report of the Committe on Platform and Resolutions shall be disposed of before the Convention proceeds to the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President.

Fourth—In making the nomination for President and Vice President in no case shall the calling of the roll be dispensed with. If it shall appear that any candidate has received a majority of the votes cast, the President of the Convention shall announce the question to be "Shall the nomination of the candidate be made unanimous;" but if no candidate shall have received a majority of the votes, the Chair shall direct the vote to be again taken, which shall be repeated until some candidate shall have received a majority of the votes cast.

Fifth—When a majority of the delegations from any two States shall demand a vote be recorded, the same shall be taken by States, the Secretary calling the roll of the States in the order heretofore stated.

Sixth—In the record of the vote by the States the vote of each State shall be announced by the Chairman, and in case the votes of any State shall be divided, the Chairman shall announce the number of votes cast for any candidate or against any proposition.

Seventh—When the previous question shall be demanded by a majority of the delegation of any State, and the demand is seconded by two or more States, and the call sustained by the majority of the Convention, the question shall be proceeded with and disposed of according to the rules of the House of Representatives in similar cases.

Eighth—No member shall speak more than once upon the same question, nor longer than five minutes, without the unanimous consent of the Convention, except that delegates presenting the name of a candidate shall be allowed ten to minutes to present the name of such candidate.

Ninth—The rules of the House of Representatives shall continue to be the rules of this Convention, so far as they are applicable and not inconsistent with the foregoing rules.

Tenth—A National Union Executive Committee shall be appointed, to consist of one member from each State, Territory and District represented in this Convention. The roll shall be called and the delegation from each State, Territory and District shall name through their chairman a person to act as a member of such committee.

THE PARTY NAME.

Mr. Van Zandt moved to strike out the words "The National Union Party," and substitute in their stead "National Republican Party." [Cries of "good."]

The President—In the call for this Convention the title is "National Union Republican Party."

Mr. Logan of Illinois, suggested that the name be the "National Union Republican Party."

Mr. Van Zandt's amendment, as thus modified, was carried and the report adopted.

It was moved that when the Convention adjourn it adjourn to meet at this place to-morrow at ten o'clock.

Thereupon the Convention adjourned till ten o'clock to-morning morning.

CHICAGO, May 21.

The Convention was called to order at 10:15. Prayer was made by Rev. Dr. Gulliver, of Chicago. The President announced that the Committee on Resolutions had just sent word they would not be ready until eleven o'clock.

After the transaction of some incidental business Mr. Hassarack of Ohio was called out and delivered an able and eloquent speech.

The President—The Committee on Resolutions is now ready to report.

THE PLATFORM.

Hon. Richard W. Thompson, of Indiana, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, advanced to the platform and reported as follows:

The National Republican party of the United States assembled in national Convention in the City of Chicago on the 20th day of May, 1868, make the following declaration of principles.

First—We congratulate the country on the assured success of the reconstruction policy of Congress as evinced by the adoption, in a majority of the States lately in rebellion, of constitutions securing equal, civil and political rights to all, and regard it as the duty of the Government to sustain those institutions, and to prevent the people of such States from being remitted to a state of anarchy. (Cheers.)

Second—The guarantee by Congress of equal suffrage to all loyal men at the South was demanded by every consideration of public safety, of gratitude and of justice, and must be maintained, while the question of suffrage in all the loyal States properly belongs to the people of these States. [Cheers.]

Third—We denounce all forms or repudiation as a National crime, [prolonged cheers,] and the National honor requires the payment of the public indebtedness in the utmost good faith to all creditors, at home and abroad, not only according to the letter, but the spirit of the law, under which it was contracted. [Applause.]

Fourth—It is due to the labor of the nation that taxation should be equalized and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit.

Fifth—The natural debt, contracted as it has been for the preservation of the Union for all time to come, should be extended over a fair period for redemption, and it is the duty of Congress to reduce the rate of interest thereon whenever it can honestly be done.

Sixth—That the best policy to diminish our burden of debt, is to so improve our credit that capitalists will seek to loan us money at lower rates of interest than we now pay, and must continue to pay so long as repudiation, partial or total, open or covert, is threatened or suspected.

Seventh—The Government of the United States should be administered with the strictest economy, and the corruptions, which have been so shamefully nursed and fostered by Andrew Johnson, call loudly for radical reform.

Eighth—We profoundly deplore the untimely and tragic death of Abraham Lincoln and regret the accession of Andrew Johnson to the Presidency, who has acted treacherously to the people who elected him and the cause he was pledged to support, has usurped high legislative and judicial functions, has refused to execute the laws, has used his high office to induce other officers to ignore and violate the laws, has employed his executive powers to render insecure the property, peace, liberty and life of the citizen, has abused the pardoning power, has denounced the national legislature as unconstitutional, has persistently and corruptly resisted, by every measure in his power, every proper attempt at the reconstruction of the States lately in rebellion, has perverted the public patronage into an engine of wholesale corruption, and has been justly impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors, and properly pronounced guilty thereof by the vote of thirty-five Senators.

Ninth—The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers, that, because a man is once a subject, he is always so, must be resisted at every hazard by the United States as a relic of the feudal times, not authorized by the law of nations, and at war with our national honor and independence. Naturalized citizens are entitled to be protected in all their rights of citizenship, as though they were native-born, and no citizen of the United States, native or naturalized, must be liable to arrest and imprisonment by any foreign power for acts done or words spoken in this country, and, if so arrested and imprisoned, it is the duty of the government to interfere in his behalf.

Tenth—Of all who were faithful in the trials of the late war, there were none entitled to more especial honor than the brave soldiers and seamen who endured the hardships of the campaign and the cruise, and imperiled their lives in the service of the country. The bounties and pensions provided by law for these brave defenders of the nation are obligations never to be forgotten. The widows and orphans of the gallant dead are in the minds of the people a sacred legacy bequeathed to the nation's protecting care.

Eleventh—Foreign emigration which in the past has added so much to the wealth, development of resources and increase of power to this nation, should be fostered and encouraged by a liberal and just policy.

Twelfth—This Convention declares its sympathy with all the oppressed people which are struggling for their rights.

Unanimously adopted.

Mr. Thompson, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, reported the following additional resolution:

That when this Convention adjourns it be not sine die, but subject to be called together at any time by call of the National Executive Committee. This was adopted by the Convention.

Gen. Schurz—I will now read what I intended to ask the Convention to adopt as an independent resolution:

Resolved, That we highly commend the spirit of magnanimity and forgiveness with which men who have served the rebellion, but now frankly and honestly co-operate with us in restoring the peace of the country and reconstructing the Southern State Governments upon the basis of impartial justice and equal rights, are received back into the communion of the loyal people, and we favor the removal of the disqualifications and restrictions imposed upon the late rebels in the same measure as the spirit of disloyalty will direct and as may be consistent with the safety of the loyal people.

Resolved, That we recognize the great principles laid down in the immortal Declaration of Independence as the true foundation of Democratic government, and we hail with gladness every effort toward making these principles a living reality on every inch of American soil.

Adopted and made a part of the platform.

BALLOT FOR PRESIDENT

Mr. French, of North Carolina—I move you, sir, that we now proceed to ballot for a candidate for President. (Cheers.)

Gen. Logan in the name of the loyal citizens, soldiers and sailors of this great Republic of the United States of America, in the name of loyalty, liberty, humanity, justice, in the name of the National Union Republican party, I nominate as the candidate for the Chief Magistrate of this nation, Ulysses S. Grant.

The greatest enthusiasm prevailed upon the nomination of Gen. Grant. The mass arose to their feet and gave three rousing cheers for the General. Handkerchiefs were waved and the band played "Hail to the Chief."

The roll of States having been called through, the President said:

The roll is completed. Gentlemen of the Convention, you have six hundred and fifty votes, and you have given six hundred and fifty votes for Gen. Ulysses S. Grant. [Tremendous applause.] The entire audience arose with three times three for Grant.

Martin Seymour of Wisconsin, moved the President be authorized to telegraph General Grant his unanimous nomination, [Cheers,]

Solo and trio campaign song, by George F. Root, entitled "We'll fight it out here in the old Union line," words by Rev. John Hogarth, was here sung and received with great applause.

The balloting for Vice President was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5
Wade	149	171	178	204	42
Colfax	118	148	164	186	522
Fenton	132	144	139	144	75
Wilson	119	112	101	87	11
Curtin	52	45	40	—	—
Hamlin	30	30	25	25	—
Speed	22	—	—	—	—
Harlan	16	—	—	—	—
Cresswell	14	—	—	—	—
Kelly	6	—	—	—	—

On the fifth ballot—650 votes being cast, and 326 necessary to a choice—the Chairman announced Schuyler Colfax as the nominee for Vice President.

The New York delegation moved that the nomination be made unanimous which was seconded by the Ohio delegation and adopted by the Convention amid scenes of the wildest enthusiasm.

EX-SECESSIONIST.—A copperhead exchange terms Gen. John A. Logan and "ex-secessionist." Is it because he is an ex-democrat? Are the terms correlative? Is there any perceptible difference?

IMPEACHMENT.—The Court was to have re-assembled yesterday noon. It is rumored that the Managers will prefer a new Article.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITERS!—Money is not the only thing that can be successfully counterfeited. For genuine Dry Goods, go to Evans & Minor's.

GRANT CLUB.—There will be a meeting of the Grant Club at its head quarters on Saturday evening, May 30th. Turn out and let us have a full attendance. Good speakers will be in attendance.

HON. J. C. FLENNIKEN, Delegate to the Chicago Convention has returned and gives a most glowing account of the proceedings. He thinks there has never been anything like it on the American Continent.

ANOTHER DISCOVERY—That D. Shirk has a No. 1 stock of Men's, Women's, Boys' and Misses' boots, shoes and slippers People would do well to examine them before making their purchases in this line.

A FACT WORTHY OF NOTE—Upon close examination by competent judges, it has been ascertained that D. Shirk has a stock of ladies' shoes unsurpassed by any in the place in point of durability, beauty of style and reasonable prices.

PLAYING INDIAN DOCTOR.—Some scalawag has been playing on the credluity of honest country folks by giving out that the celebrated ted "Indian Doctor" & Lady were to be in town this week. Perhaps some counterfeit expects thereby to turn a penny.

GRATITUDE TO THE GALLANT DEAD.—The people of Washington Co., propose to decorate the graves of their departed soldiers, at Washington, on Saturday MAY 30th inst. The strewing of flowers is a simple but beautiful tribute. It will be an interesting occasion.

BAD NEWS.—About 200 feet of Dam No. 2, went out on Friday evening last, which will suspend navigation as soon as the water gets low.

As we go to press, we learn that the steamer Gallatin sunk at Lock No. 2 on Monday evening last. No particulars.

LOST—By the subscriber on evening of the 24th inst., between the Livery Stable in Waynesburg and the tole-gate at the west end of town—a pocket book containing twenty-five dollars. Any person finding and returning the same to me at the Hamilton House in Waynesburg, will be liberally rewarded.
HENRY C. MANKEY.

MR. EDITOR:—Since the wholesale granting of Liquor License it is no uncommon thing to see men who are of intemperate habits, drunk on the streets. Who is it that puts the law at defiance by selling to such persons? Is it the landlords, the druggists or the distillers? Cannot the Good Templers answer?
OBSERVER.

HONORS TO THE COUNTRY'S DEAD.—Gen. Logan President of the Grand Army of the Republic, has designated next Saturday, May 30 for the observance of the beautiful rite of strewing the soldiers' graves with flowers. Wherever a soldier,s grave marks the sod of Greene county, let that soldier's friends and the friends of the country, decorate the spot on Saturday.

DROWNED.—On Friday evening the 18th, Robert Rogers, son of James R Rogers, Esq., of Brownsville, and formerly of Braillsville, was drowned in Dunlap's Creek. He and his brother were swiming in the dam near that place, and in attempting to swim a cross it, he was siezed with cramp and drowned. Young Rogers was about 18 years old, was nephew of county Commissioner M'Lean, was highly respected, and great regret is expressed at the sad fate which he has met.—Reporter

COUNTERPOSTING.—After Licenses were granted last Court, some of the Bar Keepers, it is said posted in their bars lists of those who signed remonstrances as persons who could not obtain Liquor.

On Sabbath morning last printed posters appeared in various conspicuous places bearing the names of those who can get Liquor, which has created much curiosity. This whole business of "posting" is disreputable. The temperance men ought to have left it all to be done by the grog fraternity.

GOOD FOOD FOR THE MIND.—The Phrenological Journal for June, serves up a most nutritious bill of mental fare. Among its leading characters are George Hall, first Mayor of Brooklyn; Phineas Staunton, Artist; Governor Isaac Murphy; J. G. Holland ("Timothy Titcomb;") King Theodore; Thomas D'Arcy Magee, with portraits, biographical and phrenological sketches, Philosophy of Dreaming and Insanity; Mr. Beecher's Philosophy; The secret of success, for Young Men; Writing for the Press; Abyssinia and its people, etc. End of volume 47. A new volume begins with the next number, July. $3 a year or 30cts. a No. Published by S. R Wells, 389 Broadway, New York,

THE undersigned soldeirs of Greene county, cherishing the memories of their comrades whose lives were sacrificed during the late wicked rebellion, respectfully request all the soldiers of Greene county to meet in Waynesburg Saturday, May 30, for the purpose of decorating the graves of the soldiers who were buried in the Cemetery at Waynesburg. All citizens are invited to attend and participate in the ceremonies. An appropriate address for the occasion will be delivered.

The soldiers in and around Waynesburg are requested to meet in the Court House, May 26, Tuesday evening, to make preparation for the occasion.

R. A. SAYERS, L. K. EVANS,
J. B. DONLEY, H. C. SAYERS

RATIFICATION.—On Thursday evening last when it had been announced by Telegraph that the Chicago Convention had done its work so nobly by nominating ULYSSES S. GRANT for President, and SCHUYLER COLFAX for Vice President, the boys brought out their Martial music, and having mustered a large delegation, proceeded to the residence of JOHN BUCHANAN, Esq. After repeated calls Mr. Buchanan appeared and spoke about an hour in an able and eloquent manner, endorsing the nominations most heartily and predicting their election by overwhelming majorities. The audience manifested their appreciation of Mr. Buchanan 's remarks by repeated and enthusiastic cheers. The campaign was thus opened in good earnest.

SUDDEN DEATH.—REV. Valentine Lucas, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of Allegheny died suddenly between three and four o'clock yesterday morning, at the parsonage, on Union avenue. He retired to bed about twelve o'clock Monday in apparently excellent health. Shortly after three o'clock next morning his wife was awakened by hearing a groan, and on looking to ascertain the cause, found her husband lying on the floor beside the bed. She immediately lighted the gas, and called for assistance, but in a moment or two death intervened. Dr. Cooper was summoned, and responded promptly, but could render no service. The Physician gave it as his opinion that death resulted from apoplexy.

The deceased was a prominent Methodist minister, and has for years past had the pastoral charge of the First Methodist (formerly Methodist Protestant) Church in Allegheny. He had been in the ministry a number of years and during his connection with the Pittsburgh Conference, has served as President, and has held other important positions.—Pitts. Gazette.

Mr. Lucas was a native of Dunkard township, this county, where he has a large and respectable connection still residing. He is well known throughout the county and his death will be a source of much regret among our people.

A NEW GAME LAW.—The Legislature of this State has passed a very stringent law for the preservation of game and insectivorous birds. The bill provides that it shall not be lawful for any persons with in the Commonwealth to shoot, kill or any way trap or destroy any blue birds, swallows martins or other insectivorous bird at any season of the year that no dear, fawn or elk shall be hunted or killed between the first of December and the first of September in any years that no wild turkey pheasant or rabbit shall be hunted or killed between the first of January and the first of September in any year; that no partridge or quail shall be taken or killed between the twentieth of December and the twentieth of October; no woodcock or snipe between the first of March and the first of September; that no wild turkey, pheasant, partridge, quail, woodcock or snipe shall be trappedor taken by any means of taking such birds other than by shooting, at any time whatever nor shall any trap, net or snare be made erected or set either wholly or in part for the purpose of such trapping or taking; that no eggs of any kind of birds above enumerated and hereby declared to be game, or any insectivorous birds, shall be taken or destroyed at any time.

"Poor Tom's a'cold."

How warm soe'er the genial sun
May look in kindness on the earth
In Tom Jone's veins no cheering warmth
Dispels the gloomy sorrow of his soul.
Dyspepsia, like a goblin, hunts him down,
Agne, grim chamberlain, lights him to bed,
While Dullness, Vertigo, and Headache dire
With fiercer aches combine to make him groan.

Harken, Thomas to instruction.
For all thy ills a remedy is found
A Panacea, certain, pleasant, sure,
PLANTATION BITTERS—S. T.—1860—X.,
A wondrous tonic, made by Dr. Drake.

We presume "poor Tom's" case is not worse than hundreds who are cured daily by this wonderful medicine.

MEDICAL—Dr. F. Whittlesey of Washington will be at the Hamilton House, Waynesburg, on Monday and Tuesday, 1st and 2nd days of June, where he invites all persons afflicted with any form of Chronic Disease, to give him a call. Dr. Whittlesey is no traveling Empiric but brings with him to our place the best test of ability and skill in his profession the successful treatment of all forms of Chronic Disease. For the past twelve years in Washington his treatment effecting cures, in many cases that had baffled the medical skill of all other systems for years; his system of Diagnosing Disease by means of the mine, never fails to detect its nature, locality and, curability, of this patients themselve will be perfectly satisfied upon submitting to his examination; his medicines are all selected from the vegitable kingdom and prepared with the greatest care by his own hands, and seldom fail to cure; we hope he may do the good for some of our suffering ones, that he has done for the afflicted in his home practice. Dr. W. is permanently located in Washington corner of Maine and Chestnut Sts. whence, he comes highly reccommended as a scientific man and thoroughly educated and skillful physician. Within the past few years he has had the experience of a large hospital practice in Cincinnati where he was also very successful in treatment of all forms of diseases peculiar to male or female, especially all diseases and weaknesses arising from indiscretion in youth. Remember that Dr. W. will remain in Waynesburg only two days. Remember that he will be prepared with medicine to treat any case that may be presented. Remember that Dr. W. will make an honest examination of every case presented, and tell his patients what he thinks of their situation and not hold out flattering inducement for the hope of fees or reward. Remember the days of his visit. The 1st and 2nd days of June. Office rooms at the Hamilton House, consultations free and strictly confidential.

BASS BALL has been inaugurated for the season. An interesting game was played on "the hill on Saturday—Students against the Town Boys—J. H. Campbell Capt. for Students and G. W. Rinehart, for Town Boys. The following is the score:

	O.	R.		O.	R.
Rinehart,	3	5	Campbell, J. H.	1	4
Campbell, A. A.	1	6	Lindsey,	4	5
Campbell, D. C.	4	3	Silveus,	4	3
Taylor,	2	4	Davis,	5	3
Hunnell,	5	1	Cummins	4	2
Sayers,	4	3	Parker,	4	3
Minor,	3	6	Myers,	1	4
Oldwine,	3	4	Hooper,	2	2
Total,	25	32	Total,	25	26

You can see by the above score that the Students were "set up" for the Ice Cream. Which is a violation of the College rules.

We often hear the remark made, "an old fashioned winter," and it is supposed to mean a long and severely cold one. The one which we hope is just past and over, we think came up to the mark.

AGENTS WANTED FOR

THE OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE WAR,

ITS CAUSES, CHARACTER, CONDUCT AND RESULTS,

By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.

A BOOK FOR ALL SECTIONS AND ALL PARTIES.

This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the Causes of the war yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with APPARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire every where manifested to obtain this work, its Official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One agent in Easton, Pa., reports 72 subscribers in three days.

One in Boston, Mass. 103 subscribers in four days.

One in Memphis, Tenn. 106 subscribers in five days.

Send for Circulars and see our terms, and a ful description of the Work, with Press notices of advance sheets, &c.
